RESTAURANT REVIEW

Big Wins

- Daniel Boscan won employee of the month for July
- Deniscea Lewis was selected for an FTS assignment
- We have two FOH leaders in training – Khang Tran & Brijean Reaser
- Successful leadership inventory management training
- We saw excellent results in July, achieving our best profit, labor, and food cost numbers in quite some time
- Created new job descriptions and role clarities for the leadership team to unify vision, responsibilities, and expectations

Next Steps

30 Days

- Expand upon catering business and proactively search for new catering customers within the area
- Designate someone to take ownership and responsibility of social media channels to promote and advertise through engaging content
- Become more involved in the community to create lasting relationships
- Choose 2 leaders to manage the upselling & suggestive ordering initiative program
- Continue inventory management training across entire leadership team to improve waste and food cost

60 Days

- Select a dozen local businesses and organizations within 20 mile radius of the store to visit and drop off a care package to promote our catering business
- Create a marketing calendar with events, promotions, important dates, and content scheduling
- Find 3 upcoming local events we can volunteer, sponsor, or donate to
- Launch upselling & suggestive ordering competition with prizes and weekly updates
- Identify 3 individuals to become inventory leads and function as a inventory management team

90 Days

- Reach out to the selected local businesses to offer catering services & analyze progress of initiative
- Post bi-weekly content on IG & FB while analyzing reach, engagement, and new followers
- Continue to expand volunteer, sponsorship, and donation programs
- Analyze the strengths and weaknesses of the upselling & suggestive ordering initiative program. Expand upon the program if success is validated
- Inventory management team works to achieve a positive food cost gap under 2% with zero transfers
